Chamber Chatter

By IRENE GROVE

The month of July is almost gone and time is growing nearer to the birthday celebration of our city. Reports are that various organizations are busy with their projects to make this event a success. Plans are beginning to take form for the old timers' exhibits, the parade, the street dance and all the rest. Don't' forget to find those old time clothes and men put away those razors.

The committee still has not located a Parade Marshal. Remember anyone born in Albany on or near September 22, 1908 is a candidate for that honored position . . . let's find that person!

A lot of people are interested in our city. The Albany Chamber of Commerce answers a lot of correspondence from all over the United States. Thought you would be interested to know that this past week information, maps, folders and organization lists have been sent to Jefferson City, Missouri; Westbury, New York and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Inquiries from persons desiring to locate in our city and area were answered from Glendale, California; Broomsdale, Pennsylvania; Hutchinson, Kansas; and Bakersfield, California.

Men Wanted! That is the sign you'll see over town. The Albany Junior Chamber of Commerce is kicking off their membership drive, Thursday, August 7 at the Red Barn. If you are a young man between the ages of 21 and 36, this is your opportunity to get into a lot of interesting activity and help with civic projects such as Teenage Road-e-o, Voice of Democracy, Youth Welfare, Miss Albany Pageant, Hole In One Tournament, and many more. This organization does a great deal to make the city of Albany a better place to live.

Don't forget the Jaycees Hole in One Tournament at the Golden Gate Fields Course August 15, 16 and 17.

Some new maps and folders have been received by your Chamber of Commerce office including a beautiful booklet entitled "Pictorial California." We also have a supply of street maps of Albany and of the Oakland Metropolitan Area.

Albany American Legion Post No. 292 and American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 292 will hold a joint installation of new officers at Albany Veterans Memorial Building, Friday, August 1st, the public is invited.

Did you know? The first meeting of the newly incorporated city of Ocean View (later to be renamed Albany) was held in Miller's Hall, formerly a large barn, also used as the first school. This was located at what is now Brighton and San Pablo Avenues. This was September 23, 1908. Also did you know that one of the first ordinances passed was a speed limit of ten miles per hour for automobiles and motorcycles. It seems San Pablo was unsafe for drivers of horses and buggies with all those new gasoline machines speeding on the street.

Albany has come a long way in fifty years and will go even further. Let me leave you with this thought . . . "A good thing to remember, and a better thing to do, is to work with the construction gang and not the wrecking crew." "Yours truly," Your Chamber of Commerce Manager.

All Stars Lose Thriller Playoff With Mt. Eden

The Albany Little League All Stars lost in their first tournament play-off game but they made it a game to be long remembered by the fans in attendance.

Coming from behind to score two big runs in the fifth to tie the game up and send it into extra innings, Albany tasted defeat when Mt. Eden scored the deciding run in the eighth inning. Albany fought right back and threatened in the last half of the eighth inning by putting two men on with only one out but were unable to score.

Albany closed their second Little League season in grand style and sent their many staunch rooters home with memories of an exciting game that will be talked about for many weeks to come.

It was a tossup between Mt. Eden and Albany to see who had the most rooters at the game and the wonderful turnout by the people of Albany inspired the Albany boys on to the best game seen by the rooters in a long time.

Albany Hill Association To Submit Changes To City Council on New Zoning Ordinance

The Albany Hill Association met Wednesday, July 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams, 851 Solano Avenue, to consider the alternate plans drawn up by their zoning committee. After a short business session, Chairman Ray Cirimeli called on the zoning committee to make their report. The Alternate Map, for the area west of San Pablo to Cleveland Street — bounded by Buchanan Street and the County line, was offered to the association with the appropriate changes in the ordinance and zoning, in accordance with the concepts previously discussed. Each recommendation and the reasoning behind it, was presented, debated and voted on. Issue was taken with the R1H zoning of hotels and motels.

The alternate rezoning map and ordinances were then turned back to the committee for final completion before July 31. The recommendations will then be submitted to the City Council before the August 4 meeting, for review and consideration prior to the public hearing on August 13.

It was recommended that a letter of thanks be sent to Mr. George Vila, chairman of the Planning Commission, for the outstanding job of presenting facts and answering questions on the proposed Albany Rezoning Plans, at the July 9 meeting of the Albany Hill Association; and a commendation to the Planning Commission for the fine work done on the proposed ordinances.

The next regular meeting of the Albany Hill Association will be August 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams, 851 Solano Avenue. All interested property owners are cordially invited to attend.

Senior Citizens To Aid Committee For Albany Fete

At the July 22 meeting of the Senior Citizens Club at 850 Masonic Ave., Albany, Elinor Kipp, president, appointed a committee of three composed of Henry Ingraham, Mary Arns and Elsie Hansen to meet with the Soroptimist Club to aid in promoting the success of the "Golden Anniversary Jubilee Festival" commemorating the 50th anniversary of Albany.

Plans were announced for the combined trip of the Senior Citizens of Albany and Berkeley to make a bus trip to St. Helena, Calif. The bus trip itinerary will call for visits to the Old Bale Mill, erected in 1846 and powered by the old-fashioned water wheel which still stands.

While in St. Helena they will visit a winery and wine cellar where the making and aging of wine will be explained. The group will then journey to Calistoga where they will visit the steam baths and geysers.

Before concluding the journey homeward persons may visit, for a small optional fee, the petrified forest where Giant Redwoods, worms and many fossilized forms lie in their preserved state. The group will leave Masonic Avenue at 9 a.m. and the Shattuck Hotel in Berkeley at 9:15 a.m. on Thursday, August 21. Persons desiring to make the trip may bring their lunches and eat somewhere enroute.

For further information regarding this trip and other Senior Citizens activities call Landscape 6-3078 and ask for Henry.

ALBANY MAY GET CRAFT HARBOR

The city council considered at some length Monday night a communication from the State Division of Small Craft Harbors inquiring whether the city wishes to be placed on its mailing list, and requesting information regarding the city's interest in small craft harbor development.

During the discussion it developed that there are many boat owners in Albany and that the possibility of a small craft harbor west of the Golden Gate Fields parking lot has been suggested. It was agreed that such a project would be worthwhile, and that among other features it should be equipped with a launching ramp, but the proposal was held over for further study. However the council voted that a request be made to put the council on the state division's mailing list.

A request by Chief of Police Jensen that an ordinance be prepared to prohibit sale of, and possession for sale of any confection composed of wax or any wax like substance, because of complaints from business houses that children threw the matter on the sidewalks, tending to make them slippery and dangerous to pedestrians. After some discussion the proposal was approved, but made subject to the approval of the city attorney, who expressed doubt as to the legality of such an ordinance, but said he would look it up and report next Monday.

Public hearings were set for the meeting of August 11 on a setback and waiver at 1049 Ordway, and at 1209 Brighton Avenue. Both these items were recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

A rear yard waiver on property at 723 Buchanan Street was approved.

There were no protests offered at the public hearing Monday night covering the rezoning of property at 1137 Talbot Avenue, but it was decided to hold the matter over one week due to the absence of Councilmen Blank and Donahue. It is proposed to build a fourplex on this property.

The council also granted the request of the Fire and Police personnel that they be granted three additional paid holidays — Labor Day, Washington's Birthday and Memorial Day. They already have Christmas, New Year's and Thanksgiving.

On the recommendation of City Engineer Wayne McAuley the contract bid of O. C. Jones and Sons Construction Company for the widening by four feet of Portland Avenue from San Pablo to Key Route Boulevard was approved. The bid was $60,201.

The council also accepted the resignation of Emmett Devine as Superintendent of Recreation and appointed Elmer Nelson as Interim Superintendent.

The request of City Engineer McAuley for the employment of a construction inspector from the Division of Highways for the Portland Avenue widening project was approved by the Council.

Auto Companies Diversify Their Products To Balance Output Against The Demand

Although members of the automotive industry turn out each year about 75 per cent of the world's passenger cars and 50 per cent of its trucks, they don't carry all their eggs in one basket. They play, according to the National Automobile Club, a not inconsiderable part in every field of mechanized transport and in many other industries too.

They make diesel locomotives and parts, journal boxes and bearings for railroad cars, transmissions for heavy-duty rail cars, and railroad electrical equipment. They build marine power units ranging from the fisherman's trolling motor to huge diesels. Both airframes and aircraft engines come from their plants.

Millions of American homes contain appliances made by automotive firms: refrigerators, air conditioners, automatic washers, dehumidifiers, food freezers, electric stoves, heating units, water heaters, clothes dryers, ironers, kitchen cabinets and sinks, garbage disposal units, ventilating fans, power lawn mowers. Children have bicycles, miniature automobiles, baby strollers and lawn gymnasiums built by auto workers.

A full line of farm tractors and other farm equipment is provided, plus such things as bonding cements, building panels, cigaret lighters, earth-moving equipment, mobile power generators, electric water systems for rural homes, water coolers, frozen food display cases, hydraulic pumps, two-way radio equipment.

How would you like a miniature soda fountain for your recreation room? That's right. The automotive companies make these too. The secret, if it is one, is that all these products require skill in metal working, a field in which the automotive industry is a real leader.

Finnish Girl Student Learns the American Way of Life is Not Too Difficult to Adopt

(This is the third and final article in a series written by an American Field Service Foreign Exchange student from Finland who has been living with an Albany family during the past year and attending Albany High School.)

By MARIANNA RICKKINEN

With the background described in the previous articles, I did not find the change from my Finnish community into an American community too big, even though it was considerable. On my first Saturday after school had begun I mechanically woke up at 7 a.m. and it took me a while to realize that this year my six-day school week had changed into five-day ones. And I also had to teach my muscles not to make me jump up when the teacher entered the room or when I answered his questions. The number of subjects I was taking at school dwindled from thirteen to six but after I had learned to accept these facts plus to obey traffic directors in the halls and to handle my locker with appropriate gentle care, I realized that I could pass for an American student!

In the common every day ways of life I learned new things, too. Milk was brought to the front door instead of people going to buy it — coffee was drunk together with meals instead of those traditional separate morning and afternoon coffees we Finns enjoy so much. Peaches and pineapples, which I had never had before, were a wonderful adventure and now olives are my friends, too . . .

But small differences are covered by great similarities. What every-day is happening around me in America could happen in Finland, too. International atmosphere is not created only in places where people from many different nationalities get together. Internationality is a thing that always exists when people think about the same things, rejoice about the same things, weep over the same things thousands of miles apart. It does not have to be created — it is there and once we acknowledge it — why do we have to be prejudiced against others similar to us? The A.F.S. slogan, often, but never too often quoted may express the ideals of the world of tomorrow or the world of today if we so want: "Walk together, talk together, oh ye peoples of the earth, for then and only then shall ye have peace."

We A.F.S.ers try to learn this "togther," and I personally know that after this year I will have two skylines clear and beautiful in my mind; that of Helsinki and that of San Francisco — and the latter will be a symbol of the America I got to know and the America I learned to like.

Grasshoppers Food For Sparrow Hawk

The sparrow hawk, according to the National Automobile Club, might well be called the grasshopper hawk because it feeds a great deal more on grasshoppers than on sparrows.

Approximately $66 per acre was paid in 1790 for the land now occupied by the District of Columbia.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How strength and freedom are gained through understanding God, divine Love, will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday at 533 San Pablo Avenue in Albany.

One of the selections from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" is this from Matthew: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people" (4-23).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (454:18-23): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action. Love is priestess at the altar of Truth. Wait patiently for divine Love to move upon the waters of mortal mind, and form the perfect concept."

Christian Science Society, Albany, California holds regular Sunday morning services at 11 a.m., and Wednesday evening meetings at 8 p.m. and Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The lesson topic for the graded classes of the Sunday school meeting at 9:45 a.m. will be "The Savior Promised to Abram."

This Friday a closing service for the vacation Bible school will be held in the church at 7:30 p.m. The primary children under the direction of Mrs. O. Janke will sing several songs, and the advanced department children under the direction of Mrs. J. Botti will present a short drama based on the Old Tsetament.

Obituary

BASILIO P. (Pat) LEGNANTE

Passed away July 25th, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Oakland, California after a brief illness. He had resided in Albany, at 968 Talbot Street, for 46 years. He was a native of New York City, New York, aged 70 years. He had been a butcher at the Sweets Meat Market for many years.

He was the husband of the late Marie Rosa Legnante who passed away in 1932. He is also survived by one daughter, Rose Rago of Albany, and one son, James Legnante of Richmond Annex. Brothers and sisters surviving include Catherina Laveglia and Amalia Ciano, both of Grumento, Nova, Italy; Joseph Legnante of Melbourne, Australia; Teresa DiLorenzo of Italy; Giovanna of Australia and the late Maria Rosa Legnante. He was the grandfather of Paul F., Basil M., and Richard J. Rago. He was a member of St. Ambrose Catholic Church.

Funeral services were held Monday, July 28th, from the drawing room Chapel of the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, with a requiem high mass celebrated at 9:30 a.m., at the St. Ambrose Church, with burial at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

LAW IN ACTION

YOUR DAY IN COURT

When you bring a proper case before a proper court you have a right to have it settled one way or another.

Should a court fail or refuse to "exercise its jurisdiction" by mistake or on purpose, you can go to higher courts to make it act.

Usually a lawyer will appeal to a higher court after the court has decided his case against him. But suppose a proper court refuses to hear a case altogether, solely because of "lack of jurisdiction." He can then go to a higher court before the case is decided on the merits. There he would get certain extraordinary writs (or court orders) to compel the trial court to take the jurisdiction it said it did not have.

The lawyer can use a writ of "mandamus," for example, to make a trial court exercise its jurisdiction. One California trial court has ruled that it lacked power to allow bail in a case. But the state supreme court thought otherwise. It held that in such a mistaken refusal to act, a writ of mandamus can compel the judge to exercise his jurisdiction. So it issued the order.

Lawyers have also used writs of "certiorari" to annul a court's order denying its own jurisdiction.

You may think all of this is highly technical—and it is. But in such technicalities—called "civil procedure"—may lie your right to freedom and property. For unless you can enforce your due rights in court, you don't really have any.

So along with all the other rights and duties, you have a right to be heard in proper cases, and a court has a duty to hear and decide your case under law.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the Albany Police and Fire Departments for the kind assistance given us during our recent bereavement. We also wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their beautiful floral offerings and kind messages of sympathy.

In coastal ...these are either sun or ...shade plants. In warmer in-...valleys, all need a good ...of shade. For color accent with this group, try pink miniature roses.

In many modern houses and a few older ones, the traditional planting bed can be eliminated as such. Where an attractive brick or redwood wall comes right down to ground level, a walk can often be widened to join the foundation; a brick or gravel strip instead of a planting bed can be used to divide lawn and house. In such cases, foundation planting is handled in tubs or planter boxes, a variety of which are available at nurseries.

Plants that are ideal for such treatment are many and varied. For tubs in sunny spots, try Convolvulus Cneorum (Bush Morning Glory) for pink-to-white flowers all summer; dwarf Citrus for fragrance, foliage and fruit; geraniums and pelargoniums that have been pruned to fat, bushy growth. And for accent, try a tub of bamboo. In shade or part shade, tubbed camellias are hard to beat.

Any list of plants can only be partially complete. A porch post and eave may require use of a vine — not to hide the post, but to soften the vertical and horizontal lines. An exposure that takes the full beating of summer sun may need one or two deciduous shade trees to soften the glare.

Before you remodel the foundation planting, draw a rough sketch showing size and exposure of planting beds. Your nurseryman can show you the above plants and make additional suggestions that will keep your foundation planting as well behaved ten years from now as it will be next year.

Here's Advice If You Are Leaving On Your Vacation

Carefree miles on the road can depend on your peace-of-mind about things back home, says the California State Automobile Association.

That sudden remembrance of things perhaps forgotten — "Did I turn off the gas?" — "Did I cancel the milk delivery?" — can be avoided by using the following AAA check list:

1. Be sure all exterior doors and windows have been locked.
2. Leave window shades only part way down.
3. Remove perishable foods from refrigerator.
4. Turn off refrigerator and other utilities.
5. Store lawn tools and patio furniture in safe place.
6. Arrange for mail to be picked up or forwarded.
7. Notify milkman and paper boy to stop deliveries.
8. Arrange for proper care of pets.
9. Make sure you have car registration and valid driver license with correct address on them.
10. Check expiration date on automobile insurance and other policies.
11. Leave copy of itinerary and automobile license number with neighbor for use in emergencies.

Perennials are plants which live for an indefinite number of years.

Geyser Steam To Make Power, New PG&E Plan

Plans to produce electric power from the natural steam of geysers were disclosed today by Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

The company announced that it had signed a letter of intent with the Magma Power Company and the Thermal Power Company, leaseholders of geyser property on the remote, hilly border of Sonoma and Lake Counties. Following the consummation of a definitive contract as outlined in the letter of intent, PG&E will file an application with the California Public Utilities Commission for authorization to install a 12,500-kilowatt generating plant on a hilly slope of Big Sulphur Creek.

Additional generating units are contemplated if the first installation proves successful and sufficient new steam wells are produced. The initial PG&E cost to produce and transmit the power will approximate $2 million.

Magma and Thermal will pipe the steam to the plant turbine at a pressure of 100 pounds per square inch and a temperature of 348 degrees Fahrenheit, supplying 265,000 pounds of steam per hour.

Another "first" for PG&E, this would mark the American beginning of the use of geothermal steam for the commercial production of electricity. It also would be the world's first all-privately - financed geothermal plant. There is a government-subsidized plant in Italy and the New Zealand and Mexican governments are developing two others.

Other recent "PG&E firsts" include the world's first all-privately financed nuclear-electric power produced at Vallecitos in southern Alameda County in cooperation with General Electric Company, and the PG&E plan for a commercially - feasible nuclear plant of 60,000 kilowatts to be placed in operation near Eureka in 1962.

Gen. John Bidwell introduced the Catawba grape in California in 1847.

New route numbers have been designated for the entire 41,000-mile Interstate-Defense Highway System.
